Our proposed solutions to change the situation and improve the status of women:

- Women need to promote social cohesion and attention to decision-making despite of small problems; so that they can participate in the development of security and freedom.
- Culturally, Social cohesion should lead to social understanding, and economically lead to the social and development corporation, and from political point of view leads to the development of social security.
- Religion and promoting spirituality in societies can play important role in improving the status of women.
